

Take it to the tip

Some weeds are so hard to kill that they either need to be taken to a local refuse transfer station or put out with your household rubbish for collection. This also applies to seeds, berries, tubers and rhizomes of any weedy plants.

If you do take weedy material to a refuse transfer station for disposal, make sure that it can't fall out along the way!

Don't be tempted to create your own 'tip' in a nearby roadside, park or gully – you'll only spread the problem and create infestations that will need to be cleaned up, paid for from your rates and taxes!

Dispose of weed waste wisely

www.weedbusters.org.nz